Sleepless Nights

"For nearly a month I was not able to sleep, but after using Paine's Celery Compound for two days, in a few minutes sleep returned."

E. G. SMITH, Claussen, S. C.

"I have taken only a part of a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and it has entirely relieved me of sleeplessness, from which I have suffered greatly."

Mrs. E. ATTOLLY, Peoria, Ill.

"For a long time I was so nervous and worn out that I could not work. I tried many medicines, but none gave me relief until I used Paine's Celery Compound, which at once strengthened and invigorated my nerves."

HARLEY SHERMAN, Burlington, Vt.

Paine's Celery Compound

quickly cures and strengthens the nerves, when irritated or weakened by overwork, excess, disease, or shock. It cures nervousness, headache, dizziness, depression, melancholia, and other disorders of the nervous system.

Tones up the Shattered Nerves

"For two years I was a sufferer from nervous debility, and I thank God and the discoverer of the valuable remedy, that Paine's Celery Compound cured me. Let any one write to me for advice."

OWEN W. BROWN, Stamford, Conn.

DISORDERED HEARING.

Disturbing Influences Which Cause the Senses to Act Abnormally.
The senses, in their normal action, never deceive; but they are all liable to disturbing influences of various kinds, which cause them to act abnormally. They may be painfully excited in sensibility, or the organs of sense may be so blunted as to become partially or wholly incapable of performing their usual functions. They may even give rise to sensations that are absolutely false. The eye may "see" bright lights, beautiful scenes, forms of familiar friends or monsters of hideous shape—see them as clearly as we see any thing—and yet the apparent objects be wholly unreal.

Disorders of hearing are the most common of all. Ringing, tinkling, rumbling, roaring or beating—as of an audible pulse—are heard in various disturbed states of the system. This is a frequent result of the misuse or overuse of drugs, as by the large doses of quinine taken in malaria. False voices may be heard, so distinct that the person does not at once suspect their objective unreality. These hallucinations may connect with an unsound state of the brain, but they may be wholly independent of it.

The celebrated Dr. Macnish, when suffering from fever, had hallucinations of sight and hearing combined. He says: "I was broad awake; my eyes were closed, and yet I saw with perfect distinctness the whole scene going on in the theater—Ducrow, performing his wonders of horsemanship, and the assembled multitude, among whom I recognized several intimate friends. When I opened my eyes the whole scene vanished; when I closed them it instantly returned. But, though I could thus dissipate the spectacle, I found it impossible to get rid of the accompanying music. This was the grand march in the opera of Aladdin, which was performed by the orchestra with more superb and imposing effect and with greater loudness than I had ever heard it before."

The Boston Medical and Surgical Journal lately described a case due simply to marked constipation of long standing. At first the voices were heard at night. They seemed to be the voices of three persons, who persisted in tormenting the patient with offensive talk. At length they annoyed her by day as well as at night. They would sing, yell and quarrel among themselves, and at times commanded her to do things that frightened her. Sleep was impossible day or night. She was wholly relieved by a few days of careful treatment, which regulated the bowels and secured sound sleep.

FUNNY HIBERNICISMS.

Specimen Gems of Irish Wit, Humor and Bright Repartee.

Stories of Irish wit and humor are like good wine—they mellow and acquire delicacy of flavor with age. They are evergreen, preserving their freshness like the verdure of the Emerald Isle of whose blessed soil they are reared. Hibernicisms never lose their sparkle and mirth-compelling quality, "age can not wither nor custom stale their infinite variety;" we never tire of telling or listening to them, and nobody but a Scotchman with a corker would be likely to get the idea into his head of speaking of them as chestnuts. We are indebted to the American Review for making a collection of the rarest gems, from which we will as specimen jewels of the first water the following:

"Pat," said a field officer, "go to your Captain and tell him you're the laziest rascal in the regiment." "Plaze, yer honor, wud ye have me go to the Captain wid a lie in me mouth?"

A pauper woman, who was being committed in having lost all her teeth: "Shoor, an' isn't it time to lose them, whin I've nothing for them to do!"

An Irish woman, unwitted to a wake: "Well, well, I'll have a corpse of my own in my house some day, an' then you'll see who'll be invited."

"Arrah! Where will you find a modern building that has lasted as long as the old wan!"

"I am writing with a sword in one hand and a pistol in the other."

"Mr. Speaker, I would give half of the constitution—nay, the whole of it—to save the remainder."

"Single misfortunes never come alone, and the greatest of all misfortunes is usually followed by a greater."

A party at cards. One player remarked: "Here is a shilling short." "Who put it in?" asked an Irishman present.

"Sir, if you come within a mile of my house I hope you will stop."

"He's so thin I'd hardly know him. You're thin, and I'm thin, but he's thinner than both of us put together."

Unintentional Apostasy.
An old clergyman used to relate the following anecdote with great gloom: Once, when preparing his parishioners for the solemn ordinance of confirmation, he found among them an old woman so excessively ignorant and stupid that, for some weeks prior to the time, he was obliged to have her come to his house every day in order to instruct and catechize her. At length he began to hope that his time, patience and zeal had not been entirely bestowed in vain, a few bright flashes of understanding having burst from the old dame's clouded intellect. The important day arrived. "Now, my good friend," said the worthy pastor just previous to the commencement of the ceremony, "as this is the last moment in which I shall have an opportunity of conversing with you, let me ask, do you thoroughly understand and believe all the articles of your Christian faith?" "Aye, yes, sir, thank 'ee," replied the venerable pupil, with a simper, and dropping one of her best courtesies: "I does, indeed, now; and, thank God, I heartily renounces 'em all!"

Feminine Wood Carving.
Wood carving is one of the newest feminine fads. The passion for carved hall and dining-room furniture and for wood over mantels has something to do with the craze. The tools are easily handled and require little muscular strength, but a quick eye, an artistic feeling and a steady hand. The designs are confined only to the tastes of the fair modeler, and may include any thing which her imagination conjures. Small pieces of work are the rule, however, such as panels and tiles for the side of the mantel, and the like, but carved desks, sideboards and large decorative pieces are not beyond the ambition of the more aspiring. If the taste for wood-carving continues to increase it will supply an occupation in which women who go in for something more than amusement will find, if they are artists, one more welcome resource.

A curious invention has been produced in the shape of a noiseless clock, for use more especially in sick rooms. In place of the usual pendulum the hands are set in motion by the unrolling of a chain, the end of which is fastened to a buoy, floating in a tank of liquid. The latter escapes at a uniform rate, and can be utilized to feed a lamp wick, giving the apparatus the double character of clock and lamp.

The Race Problem.

The principal speech at the recent annual dinner of the Southern society in New York was made by Governor Fitzhugh Lee, of Virginia. It related, of course, to the so-called race problem, and was, in some respects, decidedly refreshing. Governor Lee evidently does not believe in subterfuges. He proclaims in plain terms the idea that this is a white man's government, and that the color line should be drawn in such a way as to practically exclude the negro population from its privileges and advantages. "I ask and urge the great North to decide this question," he says, but he does not propose to have it decided in accordance with northern opinion and feeling. "The whole thing depends," he assures us, "upon the South being recognized as a white-governed section, and that there shall be no African sovereignty." In other words, says the St. Louis Globe Democrat, he insists that the present Southern policy of suppressing the colored vote shall be indorsed and perpetuated. The South is now a white-governed section in the complete sense of the term. In not a single State or Congressional district do the colored citizens hold sway. They do not make the laws nor choose the officers, in any locality. The white race is supreme everywhere, and there is no such thing as "African sovereignty," even in places where the blacks outnumber the whites five to one.

According to Governor Lee's views, the race problem can be solved only by a national acceptance of the policy; and the North is asked to abandon the theory that all classes of citizens are equally entitled to the rights granted by the Federal constitution. He insists, in effect, that the results accomplished in the South by years of fraud and violence, shall be adopted as a basis of national peace and safety. Because the guarantees of the constitution have been systematically repudiated, so far as the colored voters are concerned, he maintains that it is the duty of the North to give its approval to the infamy, and cease talking about the matter of fair and honest elections. "We do not care to take the tomahawk from the red man and give it to the negro," he picturesquely exclaims. But the negro does not ask for the tomahawk, or any other warlike weapon, he only wishes the opportunity to cast the vote which so justly belongs to him, and to have it counted as he casts it. Governor Lee is very much mistaken if he thinks the North will ever concede that the wrongs by which white rule has been established in the South are in any degree justifiable, or that the condition of things thus brought about should be continued under any circumstances. The question involved is not strictly one of color, but of justice, of integrity, and of loyalty to the principles and interests of the government. Nobody is more ready than we are to recognize the fact that there is no thing coming out of this. The people of the country are now in a lawful and orderly state, and

STANLEY AGAIN.

A KING ABDICATES HIS THRONE.

Transfer of the Several Departments at Washington.

THE EX-PRESIDENT CHEERED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.]

Latest From Stanley.

NEW YORK, March 6.—A private letter from Stanley, on the Congo, says: Henry M. Stanley has started on his journey to rejoin Emin Pasha. He has not told his plans except that he will not return by the way of Congo. On September 14th Stanley and a courier, bound for Europe, arrived at Tall with a letter addressed to M. Brown. He was taken sick, so his intelligence will be delayed. It seems Tippu Tib did not join Stanley as the latter requested in an already published letter written at Urenia on August 17th, but sent his trusted lieutenant, Said Ben Mohamed, to follow Stanley and spy out the land.

More Hand-Shaking.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—President Harrison resumed the fatiguing duty of shaking hands with the people this morning. Among the callers were the Justices of the Supreme Court in a body, and a large number of Indiana people, who expressed their felicitations and good wishes through Representative Brown. Harrison briefly and suitably expressed his gratification. At 11:30 the public reception was suspended and an earnest private conference was held with Secretary Noble of the Interior Department, after which an audience was given to a number of Congressmen. Secretaries Windom, Proctor and Rusk also called. Each had a short chat with the President. Soon after noon the doors were opened and the public grind began again.

A Department Transferred.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Proctor arrived at the War Department about one o'clock. Ex-Secretary Endicott and all the chiefs of bureaus were in waiting in the Secretary's office. General Sherman also called on the retiring secretary during the morning and remained during the ceremonies incident to the change in administration. After Proctor had been duly installed he received all the officers and employees of the Department. General Schofield and all the principal officers of the Department were separately introduced by ex-Secretary Endicott.

A German Opinion.

BERLIN, March 6.—The National Gazette on Harrison's inaugural says: "There is no reason to doubt the President's pacific principles or the sincerity of opinion regarding a peaceful adjustment of internal difficulties, although he recommends a strengthening of the navy. His tone toward foreign countries proclaims the beginning of a new era in American development and the display of a more assertive policy by the United States."

Bad Faith Suspected.

NEW YORK, March 6.—A meeting of the joint executive committee of the Trunk lines is being held this afternoon to consider an alleged violation of the agreement against paying commissions on passenger business. Late this afternoon they will probably consider the commission war on the emigrant business to the Pacific Coast.

Bankruptcy of an English Duke.

LONDON, March 6.—Viscount Mandeville, eldest son of the Duke of Manchester, has been declared a bankrupt. He has been declared a bankrupt. He has been declared a bankrupt.

Change of Directors.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The annual meeting of the Texas Pacific road was held to-day. The most important result of the meeting was the election of representatives of the Missouri Pacific system, in the place of the representatives of Philadelphia interests, which, since the reorganization, have had a full representation in the board. Robert Fleming, a Scotch capitalist, and prominent in the opposition to the regular reorganization, is also dropped. The old directors who failed in being re-elected are W. D. Winsor, Geo. D. Roberts, John A. Wright and John Markoe of Philadelphia; Robert Fleming of Dundee, Scotland, and W. C. Hall of Louisville. The new members are John F. Terry, Henry G. Marquand and T. T. Eckert, representing the Missouri Pacific; Samuel Thomas, also President of the East Tennessee; Milton H. Smith, Vice-President of the Louisville & Nashville, and E. B. Wheeler. The changes are regarded as of the greatest importance.

Blaine Fully Installed.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—One by one the members of the Cabinet, after receiving their commissions, repaired to their respective Departments, duly qualified to relieve their predecessors in office, and they subsequently received their chief subordinates. At two o'clock this afternoon Blaine came to the Department of State. A curious crowd filled the hallway before the door of the Secretary's room. Secretary Bayard cordially received Blaine, and they exchanged courtesies while waiting the arrival of Justice Miller. A half hour later he came, and Blaine repeated the oath of office in the presence of Secretary Bayard, Walker, Blaine and Sherman.

Lynched by Vi Hantes.

DENVER, March 5.—News reached here to-day from Springfield, a small town in the neutral strip, isolated from any telegraph line, that settlers for a year had been suffering greatly at the hands of a band of eighteen "rustlers," had this week warned the gang that unless they immediately left that section they would be hanged. All but five left for other quarters. The five that remained were surrounded Friday night by vigilantes and three of them were captured and lynched. The others escaped. The names of the dead men are not known.

The Press-Gang in Germany.

BERLIN, March 6.—The Bremer Volks-Zeitung has been seized for having published an attack upon Bismarck. The police profited by the occasion to make a general search of the offices of the paper. The directors protested against this action and appealed to the law. The Court supported the police.

The newspapers of various parties, including the Cologne Gazette, approve the protest of the Volks-Zeitung.

Cleveland Cheered.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland left Washington for New York at 11 o'clock, accompanied by Mrs. Folsom. Ex-Postmaster General and Mrs. Dickinson, Col. and Mrs. LaMont and family, ex-Secretary and Mrs. Fairchild escorted them to the station where they were met by all the members of the retiring cabinet and their families. The party was recognized by the crowd in the station, and Cleveland was cheered until he disappeared.

Some of the Effects.

READING, March 6.—The failure of the Reading Iron Works has caused a great flutter among the iron men. Last night the rolling mills at Naome and Gibraltar, this county, a great portion of whose products were received by the Reading Iron Works, closed down for want of orders, and this forenoon the Keystone Rolling Mill of this city, whose entire product was taken by the Reading Works, also shut down.

A Crazy Woman's Bloody Deed.

WAUKESHA, Wis. March 6.—Mrs. Ann Driscoll decapitated her sleeping husband, Timothy, with an axe during a temporary fit of insanity, near Deafield this morning and attempted to murder her son also. Her reason has returned and she says she was impelled to murder the entire family to avert an imaginary calamity.

Breakfasts His Officers.

BERLIN, March 6.—The Emperor to-day gave a breakfast to Lieutenant Grabervent, Counsellor Krauel and six officers belonging to Wissmann's expedition. He announced to the guests the recapture of Bagamoy and the capture of the Arabs and Germans. The Arab

"Our Taste" hams, and bacon, pickled and Eastern codfish at J. N. Wallace's.
The highly respectable character of the patrons of the Riverside Hotel renders it a very desirable place to live.
The Depot Hotel is the place to go for as fine a meal as can be had at the most high-toned restaurants in San Francisco.
Journal cap, ledger cap, fool cap, letter and note paper and visiting cards at C. A. Thurston's Virginia street news depot.
An occasional glass of J. J. Becker's Boca or Sacramento beer and his hot lunches are well to be a sure preventive of small-pox.
Besides a complete assortment of nuts, apples and oranges, C. J. Brooks has the finest Smyrna figs ever over tasted. Try them.
If you do not feel like eating a hearty meal at noon, go around to George Becker's Grille Saloon for a big glass of beer and a nice hot lunch.
James Killen of the Pollard House is kept constantly busy attending to the wants of those who never fail to favor him with their patronage.
The fact that John Bels runs three chairs in the reason you are not obliged to wait very long until your turn comes to be shaved and shampooed.
People who keep their hair and beard well cropped are less likely to contract contagious diseases, so go to C. Coleman for a complete renovation.
Those in want of the finest razors, shavers, and cut-throat razors, go to a block, should patronize John Fraser's Virginia street market, recently occupied by Mead & Wilson.

Doubt Brightening into Hope.
And hope into certainty, is the pleasing transition through which the mind of the nervous, dyspeptic invalid passes, who tries a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is alike incomparable and inimitable. Increased vitality, a gain in weight, tranquility of the nerves, sound appetite and sleep are among the blessings which it is within the beneficent power of this medicine to confer, and it is not surprising that those who take this new discovery of health the grateful smile sometimes utter their praises of the Bitters in terms bordering on extravagance.
"Out of the fullness of the heart the mouth speaketh," and the proprietors of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have sometimes been obliged to suppress these eulogiums lest they should be accused of blowing their own trumpet too loudly. For constipation, biliousness, nervous complaint and incipient rheumatism the Bitters is also a deservedly popular remedy.

California Cat-R-Cure.
The only guaranteed cure for catarrh, cold in the head, hay fever, rose cold, catarrhal deafness and sore eyes. Restore the sense of taste and unpleasant breath, resulting from catarrh. Easy and pleasant to use. Follow directions and a cure is guaranteed, by all druggists. Send for circular to Abbotson-McCormick Company, Oroville, Cal. Six men in treatment for $1; sent by mail $1.10. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.
It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time. She weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she got a road of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 120 pounds. For further particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, druggist, Fort Smith. Trial bottles of this wonderful Discovery free at J. J. Hodgkinson's.

The immediate symptoms of Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, are a distressing sense of weight, oppression, and fullness in the stomach, flatulency, loss of appetite, flat breath, belching, satiation, nausea, pains in the shoulders and breast. Dr. Hensley's Dandelion Tonic promotes healthy digestion and removes all unhealthy symptoms. Sold by William Fininger.

BREVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence.
Berry & Novacovich received a carload of California flour to-day.

The funeral of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rafferty took place this afternoon.

The Felix Independent says that two cases of small-pox are reported at Battle Mountain.

Benjamin Currier and Samuel Rosenthal are said to be down with small-pox at Hawthorne, making three cases at that place.

A fifty-two horse-power Lefell water wheel for Bremer & Crimmon, at Susanville, was on the Central Pacific freight depot platform yesterday.

The Legislature has agreed to appropriate $10,000 for the procurement of a water supply for the State Capitol grounds and the Orphans' Home.

Major Treese, a stage passenger between Hamilton and Ely, White Pine county, was recently severely injured by being thrown from the vehicle.

The Carson Tribune complains of the quarantine by Genoa against the State Capital. It is better for the people of both those places to suffer a little temporary inconvenience than to take any chances on spreading the small-pox.

The Cost of the Special Election.
The bills for the special election are all in. The following are the amounts claimed by the several counties:

Churchill	$330.90
Douglas	57.20
Elko	2,610.20
Esmeralda	1,075.20
Harvey	1,240.00
Humboldt	1,039.10
Lander	1,739.60
Lincoln	838.10
Lyon	1,039.15
Nye	1,414.80
Ormsby	784.00
Storey	2,264.43
Washoe	1,177.11
White Pine	1,515.45
Total	$19,435.15

While Washoe is one of the largest counties in the State, it will be seen that her bill is not as large by half as that of Storey. There are but three counties—Ormsby, Douglas and Churchill—but what have a larger bill than Washoe. That shows that we have a painstaking, careful Board of Commissioners.

Who Are They?
A new revenue bill passed the Senate, by a unanimous vote, last Saturday. It is a splendid bill and of more vital importance to the State than all the other measures introduced this session put together. Will they—the cattle graziers—beat it? If the Republican members of the Assembly beat it, they will thereby put the State "in the soup," and place upon their party a responsibility which will sound its death knell in November, 1890. Beware verbum sap, etc."

This reporter has long enjoyed the acquaintance of "Etc.," but is not conscious of having met either "Verbum" or "Sap" unless Cleveland and Wallace are the fellows referred to.

Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors.
The George C. Cornwall Division, No. 94, of the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors, was instituted at Winnemucca last Saturday. The following officers were elected: Chief Conductor, M. T. Coates; Assistant Chief Conductor, J. McDonald; Secretary and Treasurer, A. E. Lathrop; Senior Conductor, Dan Ragan; Junior Conductor, G. E. McClure; Inside Sentinel, F. B. Gillett; Outside Sentinel, W. T. Ross; Delegate to Grand Lodge, A. J. Willis; Executive Committee, W. B. McCormack, M. McCabe and A. J. Willis.

Fully Organized.
At a meeting of Nevada stockholders of the American Building and Loan Association of Minneapolis, Minnesota, the following members were chosen as a local advisory board: Wm. Thompson, T. V. Julien, J. A. Fitzgerald, F. McKee, C. H. Lemery, Thomas Barnett, F. M. Payne, C. T. Bender, C. C. Warner.

Wm. Thompson was chosen President; T. V. Julien, Vice-President; C. T. Bender, Treasurer; C. C. Warner, Secretary and Agent, and Pierce Evans, Attorney.

A Bad Death.
Herb West of the stock-raising firm of West Brothers, died on the 25th of February on his way home from the Sandwich Islands, where he went in search of health. Although several days out from San Francisco, the captain of the steamer kindly allowed the young widow to bring her husband's remains to San Francisco, and the burial took place at Oakland, the home of the deceased's aged mother, who is said to be terribly prostrated by her son's death.

Railroad Survey.
The Plumas National of Quincy, Cal., says: The railroad surveyors are at work between Big Meadows and Greenville. Owing to the heavy grade on the Deer Creek route, there is but little doubt but what the road will be located either down Wolf Creek through Indian Valley, down North Feather, or through Beckwith Pass and down the North or Middle Fork of Feather.

Killed by a Falling Tree.
A wood-chopper, whose name was not learned, was killed near Lake Tahoe last Monday by having been caught by a falling tree.

What Cigarettes Will Do.

Buckskin's Arsenic Salve.
The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. Put up by Hodgkinson & Co., druggists.

Turkish Baths and Massage.
Cures colds, rheumatism, paralysis and other diseases of the blood, nerves, stomach and liver. Commercial Row, over Fogg's meat market.

Alice Kendall, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass., writes: "I have been troubled with Neuralgia, pain in the side, and weakness, and have found greater relief from Ayer's Sarsaparilla than from any other remedy." J. C. Tolman, 336 Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "In no other remedy have I ever found such a happy relief from Rheumatism as in Dyspepsia, but Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a permanent cure. Seven years ago my wife was troubled with Gout: two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured her, and she has never had any return of the disease. I recollect this preparation as the best medicine in use for the blood." B. Barnard Wair, 75 Adams st., Lynn, Mass., writes: "For many years I suffered terribly from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Scrofula. Almost hopeless, I took Ayer's Sar-

THE SULTAN'S CAPITAL.

Constantinople's Wonderful Bazaars and Dirty Streets.

The Oriental Metropolis by Day and by Night—Festivity and Laziness of the Average Turk—Robbers Protected by the Police—The Indispensable Pipe.

Constantinople is the brightest city by day and the darkest by night, writes correspondent of the Chicago News. Some after night-fall the streets are deserted, and except an occasional rattling of a carriage over the stony streets not a sound is heard, but the street of the watchman striking the hour and the distant howling of innumerable dogs as they engage in their nightly battles. The people keep early hours at night and late hours in the morning. At nine o'clock the city is just beginning to wake from its slumber. Constantinople is not a great city, like Paris and New York, but a collection of a hundred villages, each with its distinct name, and some of them with entirely different manners, customs and language. Pera, for instance, is inhabited almost exclusively by Europeans—French, English, Italians and Germans. Here the language of society is French. Stamboul, on the opposite side of the Bosphorus, is the Turkish quarters. In five minutes, by crossing the bridge of the Sultan Yusef (Queen Mother), you pass from the civilization of the West to the semi-barbarism of the East. One hundred thousand people pass that bridge every day, but an idea not once in ten years. The toll, averaging five thousand dollars a day, goes to the Admiralty, and it is badly needed. When we remember that the Turks conquered the fairest portion of Asia and Africa, and were the terror of Europe for more than a thousand years, we are astonished at their present supine and demoralized condition. The only jealousy of Europe in Europe is the common jealousy of the great powers, none of which can allow the other to secure this splendid prize.

The Turks are great eaters; a dinner of twenty courses is common. When they are not eating they are smoking; when they are neither eating nor smoking they are sleeping. Coffee is the universal drink of the East among all people. It is ground fresh every time, and the milk and sugar are boiled with the coffee. It is served in tiny china cups of quaint shape and workmanship.

The people are miserably poor. Beggars infest the streets by day and thieves by night; and as the city is only lighted in the European quarter—and very poorly there—every opportunity is afforded the robbers to ply their vocation with success and impunity. The salary of the police is nominally sixty dollars a month, but as they are seldom paid, they live on a precarious living by taking bribes from criminals and letting them go. The pay of the soldier is ten cents a day, but their pay is always in arrears. A portion of their duty is to arrest tobacco smugglers. They seize the contraband goods, release the offenders, sell the tobacco and pocket the proceeds. Bazaars of Constantinople are full of interest, and give the visitor a better idea of Oriental life than any thing else in the city. As you approach the region of Eastern traffic you are assailed in ten different languages—Greek, Armenian, Hebrew, Arabian and Nubian. Let us enter the bazaar of stuffs. What a rich and dazzling display of goods. Carpets from Persia, shawls from India, silks from Broussa, brocades from Bagdad, scarfs of blue and gold, so transparent and light that they have been compared to sunset clouds, table covers embroidered with arabesque, golden vails woven with silver thread, robes of crimson velvet bordered with and sprinkled all over with golden stars, mantles of green, orange and purple, bridal veils sparkling with silver spangles, and the satin girdle worn by a Turkish lady, on which the eyes of an man except the husband ever fall. The bazaar of perfumery next invites our attention. Here are to be found those famous perfumes with which the poetry of the East has made us familiar—the most precious attar of roses shut up in velvet cases, and so costly that none but the rich can buy it. Here are also the scented pastilles for perfuming kisas, and kohl for coloring the eyebrows, henna for the finger tips, soaps that make the skin as soft as silk, essence from sandal wood and myrrh, pomade for the hair, aloes to sweeten pipes, bags of musk and a thousand other powders and fragrant waters that call up visions of fair women breathing an atmosphere of love and sighs. But it is in the jeweler's bazaar that our ideas of Oriental magnificence are realized, and Aladdin's wonderful lamp has conjured up a vision of unparalleled beauty, so dazzling that we rub our eyes and wonder whether they can be real. There is a Brazilian toper that would have delighted M. Bonaparte; a diamond from Golconda, worthy to adorn the neck of an Emperor; a turquoise from Macedonia, that might have fallen from the scimitar of a Sultan; here are piles of necklaces of opal and pearl, rubies of priceless value and gems of every kind known to the lapidary. To refresh the eyes let us enter the pipe bazaar. Dear to the soul of the Turk is tobacco, "the fourth column of the economy of voluptuousness," and every sort of smoking article is provided for the indulgence of this favorite luxury; chibouks, with stems of cherry and rosewood, amber mouth-pieces, polished as crystal and set with diamonds; narghiles of silver of quaint and curious shapes, sprinkled with gems, and their tubes glittering with golden rings. When Byron, who visited his poetical disgust at Malta, with its "streets of stairs," visited Constantinople he uttered no curses "loud and deep" at the streets of stairs that abound in the city of the Sultan, which are descended at the risk of one's neck and ascended in danger of bringing on the heart disease. Not only are the streets deep and stony, but slippery with mud, and some of them reeking with filth. The Turks are the most stupid and conservative people in the world; they make no changes; as their fathers live, so live they. What was good enough for their ancestors is good enough for them. A fire often benefits an American city, changes it as Augustus changed Rome from wood to marble, but a fire in Constantinople destroys houses which are not rebuilt. So it is an unceasing sight to see the charred remains of palaces, barracks, mosques, etc., which were destroyed by fire and allowed to remain an unsightly mass of ruins.

A patent has been granted for a process of manufacturing boards, slabs or plates, chiefly applicable to the usual building purposes of wall and ceiling linings or coverings, and also as a lining for ice-chests, floors and the like. Each board or plate is composed of the following materials: A large number of small tubes, either specially made of paper or other suitable material or formed of vegetable stalks. These tubes are uniformly distributed, so as to form a number of cores for the semi-plastic mass which is subsequently cast in. A plastic mass consisting of plastic mineral matter, such as burnt gypsum, cement or lime, and finely divided solid particles of organic origin, such as small coke, wool, hair or feathers, with or without the addition of a liquid binding substance, such as glue, water or a mixture of water with alum, green vitriol and soluble glass in the following relative quantities: Gypsum, cement or lime, fifty parts; small coke, ten parts; wool, hair or feathers, one part; binding substance, consisting of alum, vitriol and soluble glass, one part.

COLONEL BOWIE'S KNIFE.

It is as Popular as Ever, But Not for Dangling Purposes. A reporter of the New York Evening Post was talking with one of the proprietors of a big down-town cutting-house when a customer entered and said he wished to see some bowie-knives. A varied assortment was shown to him, and he selected one, paid for it, and went out. "What on earth is he going to do with that?" asked the reporter, as the customer disappeared through the doorway. "Fight a duel or what?" "Scarcely," laughed the proprietor, as he took up one of the keen blades and ran his thumb-nail over it. "Men don't fight duels with bowie-knives nowadays. He will probably use that knife in hunting."

"Are there many bowies sold for that purpose?" "Lots of them. The bowie is one of the most useful articles that a sportsman who is going for big game can carry, for it serves a number of purposes. With it a hunter can kill and skin his game, as well as cut wood for his camp fire. The bowie-knife of to-day is little used as a weapon of offense or defense, as it 'has no show' when pitted against the self-defense revolver or repeating rifle. The knives we sell are well made in both blade and handle. The finest steel is used and great care is taken in finishing them. The handles most used are buckhorn, but some sportsmen prefer deer's-foot or ivory, silver mounted, and for such they pay a fancy price, often as high as fifteen or sixteen dollars."

"Where are bowie-knives manufactured?" "Mostly in England, although they are made to some extent in Connecticut. The Yankee knives are fully the equal of their English competitors. Several firms in the city import bowie-knives, but no one house has an exclusive business of it, as it wouldn't pay. Most of the knives that are sent out of the city go to the West and South. Since stringent laws were passed in the South, however, making the carrying of a bowie a criminal offense, the trade in that region has fallen off considerably. A great many are sent to Cuba and South America, although in those countries the machete, a larger and heavier knife, is more popular."

"Is the present bowie-knife of the same shape as the first ones made?" "The genuine bowie has but one shape, which has never changed. The famous Colonel Bowie, you know, from whom the knife received its name, invented it by accident, his sword breaking off in a fight. He was so pleased with the shape and size of the fragment which remained in his hand that he had a knife made precisely like it. It was a straight blade, a large, straight-bladed knife a bowie, but the genuine article always has a 'clip' point, which extends about one-third the length of the blade. When bowie-knives first became popular, their blades were made from twelve to fifteen inches long, two inches broad and thick in proportion. Now the blades vary in length from five to twelve inches, rarely exceeding the latter."

"What is the cost of bowie-knives?" "The five-inch knife sells at $1.50 retail and $1.00 wholesale. The twelve-inch knives are about $2.50 a dozen wholesale, and a good one will cost about $4. The intermediate sizes bring prices in proportion. The figures given include the sheaths, which are made of strong leather, tipped with steel and furnished with a loop by which they may be suspended from the waist. Bowie-knives not used for hunting are carried in various ways, the most popular because the handiest in cases of emergency, being to suspend the knife under the left arm, securing the sheath to the edge of the armbolt of the vest by a spring clip."

The following from the pen of Mr. L. Bardell, editor of the Marion (Iowa) Pilot, will, we believe, be of interest to many of our readers. He says: "It is with pleasure that I certify to the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have used it in my family for years and have always found it most excellent, and especially for colds, croup and sore throat. It is safe and effective. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker."

"I have used St. Patrick's Pills," says Mr. J. Reynolds of Mayfield, Ky., and pronounces them superior to any I have ever before used. "I do not hesitate to recommend them, knowing them to be reliable." Though I am a thorough, yet gentle in his action, and leave the system in splendid condition. As a cathartic, or for disorders of the liver, St. Patrick's Pills have no equal. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker."

An Absolute Cure. The Original Abolition Ointment is only put up in large two-ounce tin boxes, and is an absolute cure for all kinds of skin eruptions, chapped hands and skin eruptions. Will positively cure all kinds of piles. For the Original Abolition Ointment, sold by Osburn & Shoemaker at 25 cents per box; by mail, 30 cents.

Walla Walla, W. T., will soon have a fire-alarm and messenger system.

Purgative medicine should possess tonic and cathartic, as well as emollient properties. This combination of ingredients may be found in Ayer's Pills. They strengthen and stimulate the bowels, causing natural action.

Almost miraculous are some of the cures accomplished by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In the case of H. L. King, Richmond, Va., who suffered for 7 years with an aggravated form of scrofula, Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected astonishing results.

Advice to Mothers. Mrs. Winslow's Sorethroat Syrup should also be used for children. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for colic. 25 cents a bottle. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker.

Two men supposed to be the Pixley train robbers and murderers, have been arrested in Santa Luis Obispo county.

THE CENTURY

MAGAZINE IN 1889.

WHY Has it such an enormous circulation? Experts estimate that between two and three millions of people read each number.

BECAUSE The CENTURY is above every other thing a leader. It has the development of wood-engraving in America, and it has fostered American art. It is alive to the issues of today. What it prints sets people to thinking and talking.

BECAUSE Whatever other periodicals may come into the family, the great reading world has found out that no household can keep abreast of the times without The CENTURY. "Its success is explained by its contents."

BECAUSE The greatest writers of the world like to have their work read by the greatest number, and therefore to such a magazine as The CENTURY the best naturally comes. It was for The CENTURY that General Grant first wrote his reminiscences of important battles.

BECAUSE It is publishing the life of Abraham Lincoln, by his private secretaries. Of this it has been said, "The young man who is not reading it is behind himself of that which he will hunger for." The coming year presents the most important part of this great history, which may begin at any time.

BECAUSE It is printing those remarkable articles on "Siberia and the Exile System," by George Kennan, which are attracting universal attention and are being reprinted in hundreds of foreign newspapers, but are not allowed to enter Russia. "The Chicago Tribune" says that "no other magazine articles printed in the English language just now touch upon a subject which so vitally interests all thoughtful people in Europe and America and Asia." They are "as judicious as the opinion of a Supreme Court tribunal—as thrilling as the most sensational drama."

BECAUSE During 1889 The CENTURY is to have a series of engravings of the great pictures of the old Italian masters, made by Timothy Cole, the leading wood-engraver in the world, who has spent 40 years in Italy, and has made a series of "Strange True Stories of Louisiana," by Geo. W. Cable; occasional richly illustrated papers describing the scenes of the current international Sunday-school lessons; interesting illustrated papers on Ireland, and a series of humorous and pathetic Irish-American stories; a striking illustrated novelette, "The Romance of Dollars," by a new writer, and other novelties to be announced later; supplemental papers, technical and descriptive of special incidents; "Pictures of the Far West," by Mary Halleck Foote, etc., etc. We have not space here to announce all the new features. Let us send you (free) our "Catalogue of Special Publications," with original illustrations, containing full prospectus, special offer of blank numbers to the beginning of the Siberian papers, etc. The November number, which begins the new volume, is for sale everywhere after November 1st. THE CENTURY costs 30 cents a number. $3.00 a year. Address THE CENTURY CO., 33 East 17th street, New York.

THE GAZETTE AND STOCKMAN

Is the only newspaper published in the region between the Rocky and Sierra Nevada Mountains devoted to the Live Stock and kindred interests.

We ask the hearty support of all cattle growers in the Sagebrush region. It will pay you to advertise your brands in a recognized stock journal. Remember, that one animal saved through advertising will pay for your brand for two or three years.

Mark your main brand on these cuts, just as you want it to appear, and send us an order for publication, with the following blanks properly filled out:

Name..... P. O. address.....

Range..... Horse Brand.....

Additional Brands.....
